TOO MUCH PRECAUTION BROUGHT ON DISASTER

The Arrest of Sing and His Caucasian
Wife.

Qu Sing, a cook at the French Kitchen and Mrs. Sing, a waitress at the same place, were arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Bush Anderson, on the charge of living together illegally. This thing would probably not have happened to them but for their fatal precaution against official interference with their domestic relations.

Mrs. Sing is a waiter at the French Kitchen and she had impressed all patrons of the place by the modesty of her demeanor. About a month ago the police had reason to suspect her relations with Sing and one night they broke into a lodging house and found them together. The matter was brought to the attention of the United States authorities and an investigation was begun. Sing and his wife said that they were married seven years ago at Albuquerque. They had gone there from San Francisco for the purpose of getting married since the laws of California would not permit such an alliance, the woman being a Caucasian. They lived at Albuquerque long enough to establish a residence there, so that they might not infringe upon the laws of California, which like those of Arizona, do not recognize a marriage performed outside the state merely for the purpose of evading the laws of the state.

Then they returned to San Francisco where they lived until the time of the fire which destroyed all their effects, including the marriage certificate. The story may not have greatly impressed the federal authorities since the San Francisco fire has been offered as an explanation of so many things, but the case would perhaps not have been pushed any further if it had not come to the notice of the authorities that Sing and his wife lately went to Deming where they were married again. This appeared to be a confession and yesterday at the direction of United States Attorney Alexander a warrant was issued for the arrest of Sing and his wife, for the Deming marriage could not be recognized in this territory.

When Deputy Marshal Anderson called at their room they did not know him. Sing was lying on a bed and Mrs. Sing was sitting nearby. When the officer read the warrant in which she was designated as Jane Doe she replied that her name was Maude Glenn. The officer apologized for the error but insisted that the Chinaman and his wife go to jail with him. The woman begged, saying that they were married and had done no wrong. Sing had nothing to say but they went to jail, the woman being locked up in the woman's cell while her husband was sent below.

There was a great deal of sympathy for Mrs. Sing for it was the opinion of the officers that she is a good woman save for that taste which led her to choose a Chinese husband. She was later released on her own recognizance.

NEW MEMBER IN A LOCAL REALTY CO.

A Good Week's Business For the Watkins Real Estate Office.

Harry T. Duffy of Creston, Iowa, has associated himself with the firm of Robert A. Watkins Company, in the real estate business. This is the fourth winter Mr. Duffy has spent in this city and during the various summer seasons he tried out all southern California and other points, but finally decided that the Salt River valley was good enough for him.

Among the realty sales of the past week the Watkins company reports the following:

Five-room brick and eight lots in the West Capitol addition, for J. Harvey Randall, of New Orleans, to Clinton D. Greene; consideration $3500. Mr. Greene is buying the place for an eastern friend for an investment, and he thinks he can see about a 25 per cent profit within the next two years.

Another five-room brick and one lot on East McKinley between Second and Third streets, was sold for George E. Truman, of Florence, to F. A. Hough of the Phoenix Furniture company, also bought for an investment.

A lot in the Wylie Place was sold to Mr. Whitlock, of the Donofrio candy store, for a home tract. And two lots on East Washington street between Ninth and Tenth were sold to Roy C. Welch. They were the property of D. P. Kyle and are also bought for a home-site.

BURGULARS ARE BUSY LOOK OUT FOR THEM

One House Robbed Saturday Evening
Another Sunday Evening.

The burglars are getting in their work and it is up to Phoenix people to keep their doors locked during this week and their windows nailed down while they are at the fair.

Saturday evening sometime before 11 o'clock while the family was away, the residence of C. A. Stauffer on Central avenue was entered by unknown parties and the following articles, and perhaps other things, were taken:

Alligator skin purse containing about $5 in silver, cards, etc.; a gray purse containing about $4.50 in silver, cards, etc.; a small amount of silver from another purse; a girl's gold ring that formerly had three red stones in the setting but one of which was missing; an old and large locket containing a picture of a Gibson girl on one side and the initials L. M. S. on the other; a trunk key and a Yale lock key No. 10,325.

Last evening quite early, also while the family was away, the home of Mr. Thompson, engineer at the city waterworks, at 312 East Polk street, was entered, the burglar getting in through the top of a front window. He secured for his trouble a pair of trousers, a fountain pen and a small amount of money.

There is no definite clue to the robber in either case. In both instances the police made every possible effort but found only cold trails to follow and they led nowhere.

PROLONGATION OF LIFE.

Prof. Irving Fisher, of the National Conservation Commission, has presented interesting views upon the prolongation of human life. In his view normal longevity should be made by improved social conditions to reach 150 years. The basis of his conclusion is the increase of the average age of people in civilized countries during the past four centuries. The average span of life began to increase 350 years ago. Each century thereafter added something to the span---the seventeenth century four years, and the eighteenth four years, and the nineteenth nine years. In favored localities the average longevity has increased much faster, as in Massachusetts and Prussia. It is maintained that if the present rate of progress is not checked the average person in Massachusetts a century hence, will live 14 years longer than at present. Prussia, which shows the greatest advance in hygienic and medical science is increasing its average longevity at the rate of twenty-seven years a century. It is said that such rates of advance in longevity can not long be maintained, the answer is that the world is only at the beginning of its conquest over disease and unsanitary methods.

For Aged People Old Folks Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they will cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called REXALL ODERIES.

Rexall Oderies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward; thus simulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Oderies on our guarantee: 25 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you obtain Rexall Remedies in Phoenix only at our store, The Rexall Store, The Owl Pharmacy, Andrew H.
